
Authors Biography

Global South Review

Vol. 2, No.1, June 2020

Muhammad Indrawan Jatmika is a researcher of the Institute of International Studies at Universitas Gadjah Mada. His areas of interest and research are in the global politics and security. His main research area is Southeast Asian politics which he formalized in his Master of Arts (2018) on this subject. He has conducted various researches on politics, history, culture and international relations of Southeast Asian countries such as Indonesia, Thailand, Myanmar, and Malaysia and currently taken an interest in Southeast Asia's connectivity with major global power such as European Union, China, and United States of America. His latest works include an article entitled "Reviewed Work: Globalization and the Race to the Bottom in Developing Countries: Who Really Gets Hurt?" Which has been published in Global South Review Journal (2019) and "Indonesia's Role in Humanitarian Crisis in Rakhine State of Myanmar (2012- 2017)" that been presented at the Peace and Conflict Resolution Conference in Bangkok (2018). He can be reached through his email indrawanjatmika@hotmail.com

Muhammad Ridha Iswardana is a lecturer at the Department of International Relations, Universitas Teknologi Yogyakarta. Currently, he is also a PhD candidate in Social Science at Universitas Gadjah Mada. His research interests include, but not limited to, Economic Diplomacy, International Trade, International Security, and Financial Technology. Ridha has been involved in various research such as the empowerment of communities in processing pine trees craftsmanship and contextualizing globalization, society, and contemporary issues at Pagukuhan Pondok Selo Martwini, Sleman Yogyakarta. His latest publications include a book entitled "Merajut Kebhinekaan di Era Revolusi Industri 4.0: Berpedoman Pancasila & Pengimplementasian Kewarganegaraan (2020)", and an article entitled "Penerapan Military Confidence Building Measures dalam Menjaga Ketahanan Nasional Indonesia di Ruang Siber (2020)". He can be reached through his email ridhovich@gmail.com

Arindha Nityasari is a research coordinator at Institute of International Studies, UGM. She completed her bachelor's degree in International Relations at UGM in 2018. Her research interests cover the study of international political and economy, international development, and technology in IR. Nityasari has been involved in various research such as the development of the digital creative industry in Yogyakarta, corporate environmental citizenship transformation in Indonesia's mineral water supply chain, and the resilience of female home-scaled businesses' owners in the pandemic era. Her recent writing is a chapter in the book of "Big Data untuk Ilmu Sosial (English: Big Data in Social Sciences)". She contributed as a co-author that focuses on transnational activism in digital platforms. She can be reached through her email arindha.nityasari@ugm.ac.id

Ivy Londa is an independent researcher, consultant at META Innovation Lab, and program manager at Instellar social enterprise incubator. LL.B graduate in International and European Law from The Hague University of Applied Sciences. MSc graduate from the University of Warwick in Innovation and Entrepreneurship with the support of Chevening Scholarship. Her research interest includes innovation ecosystem orchestration, social entrepreneurship, community-based enterprise, and social innovation. She can be reached through her email ivy.londa@gmail.com

Karina Dwita Shafira previously graduated from Institut Teknologi Bandung majoring in Civil Engineering, she is currently an independent researcher who also works as Internal Audit Manager at Maybank Indonesia. Research interest includes behavioral economics, sustainable finance, and public policy. She can be reached through her email karinadwitas@gmail.com

Laila Hanifah is currently a bachelor's graduate from Universitas Pembangunan Nasional "Veteran" Yogyakarta. Her research interests cover the study of gender and political studies. She is currently doing a research on online-based gender violence during the era of a pandemic. Her recent writing is a chapter in the book "Maskulinitas Politik Global (English: Global Political Masculinity)" and an article entitled "Soft Power as Masculinity Strategy in Winning Global Political Constellation" Which was published in Andalas Journal of International Studies (2020). She can be reached through her email laila.hanifah@gmail.com